"Let the little children come to Me, and don't stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to such as these," Luke 18:16b

Simply tell the story

One day after a Bible class, some Christian friends went out to lunch. They had just learned how to tell one of the Bible stories to others. One of the Filipino men (people from the Philippines) asked the waiter if he would like to hear a story. The waiter said, "Yes." He even went to another room and got the workers in that room to come and listen. The Filipino man told the story he had just learned with his friends. It is called "Jesus Calms the Storm." All the waiters listened and then answered questions about the story. Everyone listening said they understood the story.

The Filipino man then asked them if they knew Jesus. They all said no. That Filipino man told them all about how Jesus died on the cross and rose from the grave. He told them they could go to heaven if they followed Jesus. He told the people at the restaurant, "Repent of your sins; just pray these words aloud." Wow! They bowed their heads and four people accepted Jesus as Savior that day!
