

February 13, 2009

"Let the little children come to Me, and don't stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to such as these," Luke 18:16b

Did he say exhausted?

Do you ever mix up the words of a song? A 5-year-old MK (missionary kid) was prancing through his house one day, singing at the top of his lungs, "He is exhausted, the King is exhausted on high. . . ."

Don't laugh, you might have some song words a little mixed up too! Moms and dads have probably heard about "Gladly the cross-eyed bear" or "Sleep in heavenly peas." It happens.

But God never gets exhausted. He hears our prayers and answers them with love. Thank God for answering prayer. Thank Him for missionaries and their families. Ask God to help them stay healthy and strong so they don't get exhausted on the mission field.

Sing at the top of your lungs, "He is exalted, the King is exalted on high..."

<http://kompray.imb.org>