"Let the little children come to Me, and don't stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to such as these," Luke 18:16b

Everything I know about pigs

G is a wealthy man who believes in Jesus, and he wants to help tell others about Him. G is a good businessman so many people ask him for advice. A group of believers talked to G about starting a business among the Shan people of the Pacific Rim. This group knows how to raise stink-free pigs!

G was very excited. He knew that stink-free pigs could solve many problems. The believers could have a job and tell others about Jesus. Orphanages could have food for the children and maybe even make money from the pigs.

This pig farm project is getting started. Ask God to help G and his friends get permission for the farm. One day, people will learn how to raise stink-free pigs and will learn about the love of Jesus!
