"Let the little children come to Me, and don't stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to such as these," Luke 18:16b

Let's start some "loips"

Another group wants to start a "loip." I think I'd like to start one too—how about you? Okay, I know you want to know what a "loip" is before you start one. It's what the Samburu people of Kenya call a gathering where you hear God's Word. The word literally means "in the shade under the tree." That's where the meetings take place.

Lots of people gather under trees and listen to missionary Charlie Daniels, and he tells them stories from the Bible. He teaches them how to live a godly Christian life. Charlie wants us to pray for the people that go to the "loips." Pray that they will understand the Gospel of Jesus. He wants us to pray that they will accept Jesus as Savior when they hear him tell the story of Nicodemus.

Charlie Daniels also wants us to pray for other people to tell the Bible stories. Ask God to help the Samburu people go to other places and to people who have never heard the stories of God. Pray that they will be godly men and teach others well.

I still think I want to start a "loip"—how about you?
