"Let the little children come to Me, and don't stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to such as these," Luke 18:16b

Life of obedience

Gordon and Nina are missionaries who are in the United States right now. They spoke with the AWANA groups at their home church in Texas. Cubbies are the 3-5 year olds, Sparks are K-2 and the older group has third through sixth graders.

They told the children some exciting stories about living in foreign countries. Gordon and Nina had to be evacuated from one country many years ago, but they are still serving God on the mission field. Gordon told the children their story and talked to them about living a life of obedience to Jesus.

He ended with a prayer and told the kids to talk to their parents, AWANA counselors, or the pastor if they wanted to ask Jesus to be their Savior. After church, Gordon and Nina went to Nina's mom's house just to visit. That's when the phone rang. -Nina's sister called; then because of that call, Nina called her grand nephew, Connor— Connor had something special to tell Nina and Gordon.

Connor, age 6, said, "Aunt Nina, I want to be a missionary like y'all." Of course Nina and Gordon are thrilled! The next time Connor and Nina are together, they are going to have a lot to talk about.

Please pray for Connor that he will be faithful to Jesus as long as he lives and that he will become a missionary when he is older. Pray for all of the children to obey Jesus every day of their lives. What about you? Have you been obedient today?
