

June 4, 2010

"Let the little children come to Me, and don't stop them, because the kingdom of God belongs to such as these," Luke 18:16b

I KNOW THIS BOOK

A Christian worker went shopping at a food market in Bangladesh. Even when shopping, he had a Bible at hand—a Bible in both English and the local language. This Christian got into a spiritual conversation with one of the shop keepers at the market but got stuck. He couldn't remember the right word in the local language...

So he pulled out his Bible and started to look up the scripture verse that would explain the word. The shopkeeper gasped and said, "I know this book!" He took it right out of the Christian's hands and started reading. Another shop keeper started reading over his shoulder. They were reading from the book of Acts and asked, "Who is this Jesus?"

The Christian told them the Good News. They were excited to know that Jesus brings freedom, but they are afraid because their families follow another religion. The first shopkeeper says he still wants to know Jesus, and he is reading through the book of John. Please pray for both of these shopkeepers to become Christians. Pray that they will tell their families about the love of Jesus. Ask God to give this Christian more chances to pull out his Bible and tell people about Jesus.

<http://kompray.imb.org>